Proposed Young Horticulturalists' Group

GrowSmart is planning to host a BBQ and drinks for young people working in the horticultural industry. This will be on Monday, July 9 from 5 to 7pm at the Loxton Research Centre.

Apart from enjoying some social time, we will be asking people for ideas about what such a group could achieve – anything from a forum to discuss workplace challenges, possible guest speakers – really whatever the group comes up with!

We will also seek input about how often the group would meet, where etc.

If you are interested in attending, or know of young horticulturalists that could be interested, please let Trevor Noble know as soon as possible.

If you have any questions, please contact Trevor.

Chainsaw Course

Our next course is scheduled for Tuesday, July 3 in Loxton. Cost is $200. At this time there are two vacancies
